SARIM KHAN
Supply Chain Engineer
Lutron Electronics

Sarim Khan joined Lutron Electronics in 2012, after graduating from Lehigh University with a Bachelors of Information & Systems Engineering. After working five years in the New Product Operations (NPO) group and launching over thirty products, Sarim took the lead of the Raw Materials Supply Chain team in NPO. Sarim's responsibilities are to standardize best practices and eliminate risk in launches to drive a sustainable and scalable supply chain.
