KRISTI MONTGOMERY

Vice President of Innovation, Research &
Development

Kenco Innovation Labs

Kristi is a dynamic explorer of strategic innovation that drives revolutionary change. With 28 years of logistics and supply chain experience, she leads a dedicated team of specialists in Kenco Innovation Labs who identify, research, and prototype creative ideas with the potential to positively impact the supply chain. As the senior innovation officer, recognizing that no single approach works for every customer, Kristi leads research and development utilizing design thinking and open innovation to deliver business value for the 200+ customers that Kenco serves in North America.

Kristi holds a BS in Organizational Management from Covenant College and is a certified Specialist in Design Thinking and Innovation as awarded by the Darden School of Business, University of Virginia. Kristi chairs the Board of Directors for ChaTech, is the Co-Chairman of the International Warehouse and Logistics Association Education Committee and serves on the Board of Directors for the Warehousing Education Research Council (WERC). She serves the industry speaking, participating as a panelist, and publishing articles promoting supply chain innovation.
