Shorter supply chains are lower risk and are more profitable for OEMs for 20 to 30% of products now imported. In 2020 over 100,000 manufacturing jobs were reshored by U.S. companies, plus 40,000 FDI'd by foreign owned companies. Takeaways include:

- How to identify the products most profitably reshored.
- How to quantify the costs and risks of offshoring.
- How to convince your company to produce or source more in the U.S.
- How to identify and convince customer companies to reshore and buy from you.
