FRED KOECK
Supply Chain
Development Manager
Derby Supply Chain
Solutions

President
CSCMP Lehigh Valley
Roundtable

Fred Koeck is currently in a Supply Chain Development role with Derby Supply Chain Solutions. His early career was in manufacturing encompassing roles in quality control, sourcing, scheduling, warehousing, and distribution, transitioning into customer service and sales roles in later years. Simultaneously, he served in the Army Reserve as an engineer including both enlisted and officer duty positions, retiring after a 22-year career.

He is the past President of the Traffic Club of the Lehigh Valley, the current President of the Lehigh Valley Roundtable of the Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) and serves on advisor councils with Kutztown University's Supply Chain Program and Lehigh University's Center for Supply Chain Research. He provides leadership and guidance to several businesses, startup organizations, and nonprofits through various board and advisory roles. His education includes numerous military engineering, logistics, and leadership programs; a BA in Economics from Rutgers University; and a Masters in Logistics and Supply Chain Management from Georgia College and State University. He is a forward thinker and lifelong learner, constantly striving to expand his own knowledge and experiences through reading and active participation. He is a supply chain connector, assisting in developing, managing, and efficiently moving materials from source to user or consumer across the sourcing, manufacturing, and distribution continuum.
