

ADVISORY COUNCIL MEMBER

Center for Supply Chain Research at Lehigh

ROBERT SCHUETT
Corporate Director,
Strategic Procurement
North America

B. Braun Medical Inc.

Bob Schuett is Director of Strategic Procurement North America for B. Braun Medical, a leader in infusion therapy and pain management, which develops, manufactures, and markets innovative medical products and services to the healthcare industry.

Bob currently manages a team of strategic sourcing professionals responsible for direct spend to support their US manufacturing locations and the Dominican Republic. His extensive global experience has included industries such as Capital Equipment, Electronics, Financial, Life Sciences, and Telecom, having managed both direct and indirect spend across local, regional, and global teams.

Bob has conducted and led global cross-functional category spend reviews and commodity teams to drive data-driven strategies coupled with business acumen. He has recently navigated the global COVID-19 pandemic, by maintaining security of supply, with minimal disruption.

Bob grew up in Germany, Holland, and the US and he currently lives in Nazareth, Pennsylvania with his wife and has three grown children.

Bob earned his MBA from Lehigh University with a concentration in Supply Chain Management and is APICS CPIM and CIRM certified. His undergraduate studies included both Business Administration and Mechanical Engineering.

LEHIGH
UNIVERSITY

College of Business

CENTER FOR SUPPLY CHAIN RESEARCH AT LEHIGH