

CSCRL SPRING SYMPOSIUM

AI AND THE FUTURE OF WORK IN SUPPLY CHAIN: PEOPLE, CULTURE AND PERFORMANCE

APRIL 23-24, 2026

PANEL SESSION - SPEAKER BIO

JOHN MCCULLOUGH

DIRECTOR OF CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT, SHARP SERVICES

John McCullough is Director of Continuous Improvement at Sharp Services, where he leads enterprise-wide initiatives focused on operational excellence, analytics, and scalable improvement systems. With deep experience in manufacturing environments, John partners closely with operations, quality, finance, and technology teams to shape strategy, improve performance, and data-driven decision making across complex highly regulated global supply networks.

At the core of his work is a mission to translate continuous improvement principles into practical, people-centered solutions that drive sustainable business results while strengthening organizational capability. John is passionate about developing teams, advancing modern manufacturing practices, and bridging the gap between strategy and execution.

John holds a Bachelor of Science with a double major in Mathematics and Physics from Moravian University and a Masters in Industrial Engineering from Lehigh University.